

Pwi-Di-Goo-Zing Ne-Yaa-Zhing Advisory Services
Job Posting – Community Energy Champion
Fort Frances, ON

Reporting to the Technical Services Advisor, the Community Energy Champion will manage and coordinate energy related initiatives and activities with the seven (7) First Nations member to Advisory Services. The Community Energy Champion will be responsible for the evaluation of both residential and commercial energy use, identifying areas where there are inefficiencies with recommendations for improvement. In addition, the Community Energy Champion will be responsible for completing or assisting with the completion of energy assessments and develop education and awareness materials of conservation strategies for distribution in our member First Nations. The funding for this position is three years with the possibility of extension.

Qualifications:

- High School diploma or equivalent;
- A background in project management, energy planning, infrastructure assessment or similar is preferred;
- A general interest in energy conservation and sustainability.

Requirements:

- Valid driver's license and access to reliable transportation to fulfill travel requirements.
- Superior written and verbal communication skills.
- Detail-orientated, exhibiting accuracy in all work; willingness to learn and take initiative.

Salary

- $20.00-$25.00/hour, 35 hours per week

Application process

- Please submit cover letter and resume that includes three (3) professional/work related references, with written authorization to contact references to:

Hiring Committee

Pwi-di-goo-zing Ne-yaa-zhing Advisory Services
Box 522 Fort Frances, ON P9A 3M8
Tel: 807-274-8531 Fax: 807-274-4330 Email: tryll@advisoryservices.ca

If submitting by email, please use Community Energy Champion in the subject line and include your cover letter, resume and written authorization to contact references in PDF format.

Deadline: This position is open until filled.

While we appreciate all applications, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.